About the Festival

Over the years, the Shenandoah Valley Music Festival has come to mean many things to many different people. During its nearly 50 year history, the Festival has gained a reputation throughout the Mid-Atlantic region as a place where renowned musicians and performers take the stage in a beautiful and unique setting to perform world class music. The Festival also has a well deserved reputation as a place where:

- Travelers come for a respite
- Family and friends enjoy a picnic
- Couples gaze at the stars
- History buffs visit a bygone era
- Everyone enjoys extraordinary music and entertainment

These people all have one thing in common — and that is regardless of their reason for coming to the Shenandoah Valley Music Festival, once they have discovered it, the Festival’s music and unique character draw them back again and again!

What is the Guild?

The Shenandoah Valley Music Festival Guild has played a significant role in maintaining and growing one of the Valley’s finest concert series. The Guild is a volunteer organization with a two-fold purpose:

1. To support the Shenandoah Valley Music Festival (a not-for-profit performing arts presenter that brings quality music to the region) by developing and hosting a wide range of social events and fundraising programs designed to generate funds for the Festival’s concerts.
2. To assist the Festival in generating interest and attendance at concerts.

All members are vital to the success of the Guild and the Festival regardless of the role they choose. Whether your interest lies in music or in generating support for the Music Festival, you make a special cultural contribution to our area.

All of the funds raised by the Music Guild — 100% — go directly to the Shenandoah Valley Music Festival.
